

How has your attitude toward reading changed from the beginning to the end of the school year? Has this class impacted your attitude toward reading? If so, how?

- I now know lots of new information regarding on how to find a book and I have been introduced to finding the themes of a book this year. I think my reading improves each year
- My attitude towards reading now is that I like it, but I need to start making time to do more of it. This class has made me more interested in reading, because of the suggestions of books, and the book we have read in here.
- This class has changed my attitude on reading a lot. Although I have a really busy schedule and have a hard time fining time to read between school work in sports, when I do read I feel more confident and understand my reading better. I think the blogs helped that ina way where I had to talk about what I read.
- My attitude towards books has stayed the same. I still love reading.
- Its getting better than it was earlier this year
- Yes, I read less books in 7th grade than 6th grade, because I didn't really get to read my favorite fantasy-genre books anymore, so I had to read different books like poetry, mystery, etc. Although this may be true, it didn't necessarily mean that I absolutely despised the fact I had to read other books. It just meant that the amount of books I read was much smaller than last year.
- When I was in 6th grade I read a lot but when I entered 7th grad I didn't feel it anymore somehow but I remember once in 6th grad I read a book that I barely started that same day and finished it and it had about 130 pages and read another book and read about 40 pages and I was surprised that I read that much in a day.
- I have alwyas really enjoyed reading, so i still enjoy it. This class has made me like reading more because of all the awesome books Dr. Donovan had in her library.
- My attitude now is if i have the right book i will not be ab,e to put it down and with a good book i'll read at a good pace.

- I still love reading occasionally, not as much as at the beginning of the year but only because my schedule now is a lot busier than how it was then, but I still try to read whenever I can.
- I'm not a big fan, it's all too spiritual and complex when I just want to read and have simple conversations about what's happening in the story, not the messages and life lessons.
- My attitude used to be to read because you had to and you never had the choice to pick which books you read. Now this class changed my opinion by letting us choose the books, reading at our own pace, and being able to use our own knowledge. Now I enjoy reading and try to read whenever I have a little time.
- This class has opened my eyes to many book genres and so many new things that I never knew about. I am really sad about leaving this class because I feel so happy to be in it.
- It's gotten better because I get to read books I like.
- No, I still don't like to read.
- In the beginning of the year I didn't like reading so much and then suddenly in near the end of the year I change my attitude about books and I actually wanted to read books now and I really don't do that much so often.
- I still like to read. But it certainly got more boring. I like to read when I have free time in class. It changed because I barely have time to read. With all the homework and stress. I also just got a puppie and that takes up most of my day just watching him and taking care of him. And I just got a Ps4. So I play with my friends a lot.
- I still don't like reading
- I think my attitude did change, now I enjoy reading more than before I didn't read that much.
- Yes my attitude has changed because at first I didn't really like to read and if I did I took like three weeks just to finish one book but now I can read one each week
- My attitude toward reading has not changed and it isn't because of this class, it is just that I can't read books that don't interest me and as it turns out there are not many books that peak my interest.

- I can read a lot of books but I don't like to read. It has a little because sometimes I get into the flow.
- Nothing has changed I still hate reading But I have learned so much ... Though I still hate it !!!
- I think this class made me a better reading and writer when it comes to summarizing books and I'm happy that I got this class this year.
- I like reading books in topic I'm interested in.
- My attitude towards reading was strong because I used to love all the short and just mini chapter books but I loved the long chapter books. This year my attitude towards reading has changed because I have more responsibilities and less time to read. This class changed it because it helped me discover more genres I love and I never knew I would love.
- I kind of started reading more because we do more poems and blogs instead of reading.
- It has not really changed that much from when the school year started. It changed my opinion a little bit because of how we got to read some books as a group and they were good books. We also got to keep the books. When we finished reading the books we got to see a movie and how they looked and what they were like I mostly got to see how the past was back then
- I would say yes it did change my opinion about books I used to think books were so boring and used to hate them I'm not saying I love books but they are alright I kind of like books now.
- To be honest I don't love it but I don't hate it, I feel like I'm around a four. When I first came into this class I'm like great I already know I'm going to have to reread a lot. I actually enjoyed reading this year because we actually discussed what we read unlike last year my teacher made us read half an hour and just check in with her saying we already read it.
- I enjoy reading books now. This class helped me to find the genre of the book that I like to read: realistic fiction. Right now my goal is to read at least more than 30 books in the summer.

- This class has changed my view about reading a little cause when I first came to 7th grade I didn't really like reading, but now I like it cause of all of the different books I got to read and the different stories that I read.
- Now I feel like I haven't felt motivated to read, but I would like to keep reading over the summer.
- My attitude toward reading is ok if I used to read a lot but since I got into junior high I haven't read a lot.
- My attitude towards reading is still the same, but this class changed my interest range and now I like more different kind of books than just one.
- This class has made me more aware of what I'm attempting to read because of the new topics that Dr. Donovan has taught us. My attitude towards reading now sparks an interest and makes me want to read even more based on the long list of what she has read.
- I feel a little the same as the beginning of the year.
- I like I just need to get to the flow of the book and I like action book with a nice cliff hanger. Yes it has changed my opinion because I learned how to get a flow into a book.
- I mean, my attitude with school is ugh, but in reading class, it's pretty chill here. I have no problem reading a book. So basically, my opinion has changed over the months I been here because Dr. Donovan picked out some dissent books for us to read.
- I kinda like reading.
- I still don't hate reading, but I still don't like it. I'd rather write or play guitar instead of read.
- No, I like to read a lot more now because I have a lot of good suggestions on books...thank you Dr. Donovan.
- Yes this class has changed my opinion on reading because this class tells me more than just reading a book and a summary. Dr. Donovan is a teacher that loves what she does and makes this class fun and unique and she teaches us about a Rhetorical Triangle I barely knew what that was when I came here.
- I like but I mostly do other stuff I only like interesting books

- Last year we had so much homework compared to this year. We had about 4-5 pages everyday and now all we had was a blog that was do every thursday.
- So far I still love reading because mostly all the books that Dr.Donovan chooses are all terrific even that one time she let us choose which books what we want and I found out that my new favorite book is called Everything Everything.
- Well my attitude towards reading now is the same becuse im not much of a reading type of person. I always try to read atleast 10 or more books and try to finsih them. But my interest has changed i like to read more realistic and romatic stories now then scary and mystery last year.
- I dont really like it as mch as i did last year, but i lke it more that i did in the bigginning of the school year.
- My attitude towards reading hasent really changed because i havent found a good book that I can read and enjoy.
- It has changed my opinion by a lot. At first, I like cheesy romances, and didn't criticzize books on their plot or their problem or the solution. Now I over complicate things. I look for the leasom of the book and how does relates ro real life. I analyze relationships, seeing if they are good or bad or well develop, mostly for ships.
- My attitude during reading now has changed from the beginning because everyitme I read a book I'm more focused on what I read and know what's happening. As well give a breef sumary on what's happening and not giving up on reading thw whole book.
- I read books now and enjoy them in 6th grade i always thought that reading books was boring
- This class and my other reading class had helped me a lot with reading, well because I didnt like to read at ALL. But now I got help by my reading teachers to help me find what kind of books I liked.
- I've always liked reading class because its probably the most quiet class of the day, in general I love reading,

- My opinion towards reading is the same. I love reading, but I have noticed that I have less books this year. I think that I have less books because I have a lot of homework, more responsibilities, and want to hang out with friends.
- It's still the same, it did not change my opinion.
- I still like reading independently and also like to think of the images in my head to get the idea of what is going on.
- I like reading books I just don't read them very much because I do other things the only time I would want to read them is when I have nothing to do. Other than that I love books I just don't read them that much.
- I now like reading more than last year because last year I only read like around 10 books. This year I read around 20 books.
- I enjoy reading now, although finding a really good book that I actually want to read, is tough. With my busy schedule, if I don't have a really good book that makes me want to read, I won't set aside time for a book. I really enjoy reading books, the only part that I don't enjoy is the part where I'm picky about my books.
- My attitude changed a little bit and now I realize that I like to read. The class changed me because I could talk about the book and read other books with the classroom.
- My attitude toward reading now is kind of different. Now, whenever I read it depends if I'm interested in the book or not. Lately, I've been really interested in a couple of books.
- I'm starting to like reading because now that I read the book aloud I can actually understand, and this class was the first time in years that I could actually understand what I am reading, other classes and other grades never really helped me understand the book that I was reading because nobody had the time to help me, but this class did.
- I've always loved reading. It was my favorite class because my spelling was so bad in writing. And because I loved reading for such a long time, I've learned that you don't just read. When I used to read books I didn't have to write about them, I just read them. But once I entered 7th grade, I've learned that by reading you express yourself. Also when I started reading in 7th grade, Dr. Donovan taught us. By that I mean she didn't give us grades she just taught our class important things we needed to know while reading, and because of that I think I started seeing reading class differently, which let me see reading books differently.

- Reading was not my forte but Dr. Donovan made this a more memorable time for me because I love to work on ipads chromebooks computers so I had a good grasp on what was going on.
- I still love reading.
- I think that reading for me now changed just because I don't only think about the plot but I looked at the smaller parts within the book and sort build of that. During the beginning of the year I think I was more conserveted on what I read and sort of only reading with what I was familiar with but now I'm more open up to other genres and subjects or topics im introduced to.
- I think my attitude towards reading has stayed pretty much the same.
- I love to read now and this class has changed my opinion of reading because it has shown me different ways to understand my reading.
