

Radiation incident in Chernobyl

Co-written narrative

“What just has a 9 year old boy named Samuel, the only thing that interested me was, “What’s for dinner?” But that all changed after the explosion. The walls trembled glass fell, what’s that? An earthquake no an explosion! We heard the alarm to evacuate we packed our things and ran out the door right before the house collapsed. I look behind me and see the house fall to pieces. The floor is a mess with building parts all around and right there, by my feet i see my family picture cracked and ripped.

What happened my house, to my neighborhood all destroyed,” I said in a horrified voice

My dad came to me and said

“Son, you will remember this day for the rest of your life don’t let this get to you,” said my dad

I walk and just look and just try to find one of my friends but no sign of them. Then in the distance another explosion occurred and my eyes start watering. Is this the end of the world or are we in war. I shouted as loud as I could. “Mom” My dad got worried so we checked the area. There was no sign of her.

“Where could they be,” I said in a trembling voice.

I saw my dad’s eyes watering up, I had never seen him cry this much before. I try to comfort him saying we’ll find mom. There were 3 things in my mind that day- finding my friends, finding my mom, and finding out why this happened. I start walking looking at the destruction that has happened to our town. Then in the distance I see something moving. I run towards my house and my dad says

Don’t, it might, explode! I don’t stop, for all I know it could be my mom in there... Seconds later I hear the words

“I love you son,” Those were the last words of my mom.

I fell down on my knees in despair pounding the floor.

“Hey,” Jovanny said

“Hello,” I said still shocked from what happened seconds ago We had to evacuate town, this was the worst incident in history known as chernobyl. Ukraine will never be the same I told Jovanny.

“Yeah,” said Jovanny

And that is what is known as the chernobyl incident, this catastrophe took place in Ukraine it is now illegal to go there since it is restricted and there are many hazardous conditions that can affect you. This forced many people to leave the area it is by far the worst we have experienced, the explosion in the story was a reactor failing and then exploding leaking radiation all over the town.
