

- ~~1a.~~
- 1a. Charlie was devoid of acceptance from his family.
 - 1b. Martine is devoid of her parents
 - 2. Charlie tried to live as a loner, but filled the void by creating a relationship with his family
 - 3. Martine spends lots of time with Jemmy, the giraffe, her grandmother, and her best friend Ben.
 - 4. Both Charlie and Martine fill their voids by building stronger relationships with the people they love. However, Charlie eventually gets acceptance and Martine can never get her parents back.

Gordy Daup (Zentner)

Now's a Time for Running

- 1a. During almost the entirety of my book Cancer Beings was devoid of happiness, drowning in grief.
- 1b. Currently Deo is devoid of the feeling of safety constantly moving in an effort to get to Africa (South).
2. He filled the void by building a relationship with Beemza, visiting Dr. Mendez, and sealing his friend's memories in a Gordy Daup.
3. They, Deo and Innocent, are trying to fill the void by getting to South Africa.
4. They way they go about filling their void because one tried to make a friend while the other is moving.

• Small as an Elephant (Jacobson) • A Time to Dance (Venkatesan)

- 1a. Jack was devoid of relationships with his grandmother
- 1b. Veda is devoid of having acceptance of one leg
- 2a. Jack was planning to call his grandmother but he ran into her on the way.
3. Veda is trying to get used to the change while getting thru walking around the hospital and is thinking of trying out the prosthesis.
4. The fill of voids are different because he had to travel somewhere and call his grandmother while Veda has to think about the possibilities for her foot and how she can dance again.

• Posted (Anderson)

• A Time to Dance (Venkatesan)

- 1) a) Frost was devoid of money, a cell phone, and a good relationship with his dad.
b) Veda is devoid of half a leg, and temporarily, dance.
- 2) Frost attempts to fill the void by trusting friends and other family members to feel the same as everyone else.
- 3) Veda attempts to fill this void by getting prosthetic leg and learning how to dance all over again.
- 4) Both characters have awful things happen to them or the people they love. They try as hard as they can to correct the problem to change their situation back to how it was. Frost tries to bring his friends back after fighting, and Veda tries to learn how to dance again, just like she used to.

Lily and Dunkin (Geohart) An Uninterrupted View of the Sky (Crudler)

- 1a. Lily was devoid of acceptance from her father
- 1b. Francisco is devoid of his mother.
2. Lily tried to make her father understand her needs through a Doctor.
3. Francisco is trying to take care of himself to replace his mother.
4. It is similar because they both were devoid of good relationships with their parents. It is different because Lily tried to make her father understand and gain acceptance, while Francisco accepts the fact that his mother left.

- Smell as an Elephant (Jacobs)
- An Uninterrupted View of the Sky (Carr)

- 1a) Jack was devoid of being able to trust others and
- 1b) Francisco is devoid of safety of money and change
- 2) Jack let himself get help from others and build connections, and finding his grandpa gave him safety.
- 3) Francisco wants to start a store to earn money for his family, where is willing to get closer to his family
- 4) It is similar because both characters are changing in relationships, in a good way, but it's also different because Francisco wants to earn money, and Jack wants to find his mother for safety.

• What Elephants Know (Dinorstein) • Posted (Anderson, 2017)

Devoid (Entirely lacking;)
free from 1.

Nandu was devoid of his relationships and connections with his father (Sudha-Jahid). Eric is devoid of true, helping friends that fill up the loneliness.

2

Nandu attempted to fill the void by interacting and talking to his father a little more, and asking for love. developing the idea of 3.

Eric attempted to fill his void to listen to his mom and have friends come to him and make relationships.

4.

Similar

- Being more social and trying to have hope to feel love and interactions from other people.

Different

- One of them is at times desperate for friends and then one of them has nice friends but not enough love.

• Small as an Elephant (Jacobsen, 2016)

• A Girl Called Problem (Quirk, 2015)

- 1) a. Jack was devoid of a proper parent to guide him.
b. Shida is also devoid of a good, supporting parent and an opportunity to be a nurse.
- 2) Jack tried to find his mom and see Lydia.
- 3) Shida encourages her mom to move. She bonds with her mom with stones.
I hope the nurse and school will educate Shida.
- 4) They are both similar because they travel to a new place(s) to fill in their void.
Difference is that Jack's mom isn't actually there while Shida's mom is still there.

A Girl Called Problem (Quirk, 2013) Posted (Anderson, 2017)

1. Shida was devoid of girls right. Eric is devoid of friendship.
2. Shida attempt to fill this void by fighting for her rights.
3. Eric attempt to fill this void by trying to be friends with others or listening to his mom.
4. They are similar because they have hope and difference is they both are in different countries.